Psycho-social Counseling Cell- 2021-22

❖ INTRODUCTION AND PREAMBLE:

Covid-19 has created many problems in the Social environment of students and parents. This sudden social change has disrupted their Social, Family, Intellectual, Mental life. Only if our mental health is in order we live life properly. However, to solve this problem, the respected Principal Dr. Arun Andhale has formed a counselling cell on behalf of the department psychology in the college. Expert guides are provided for counselling of students and parents. However, all student parents must take advantage of this initiative.

Psycho-social counselling is an interaction where helper offers another person the time and attention. Psychosocial Counselling is a process that psychologically empowers individuals to seize back control of their lives, whilst working through issues and problems that have caused them to lose self-esteem, as well as confidence in their own abilities. Counselling increases self-awareness and a sense of well-being, and is often the first step individuals take on their path to discovering a more positive life.

❖ OBJECTIVES:

1. To develop a clear understanding of educational, social and psychological problems of student.
2. To provide opportunities to express students' ideas, views, and experiences.
3. To enhancing the students' effectiveness, ability to cope, and promoting the decision-making process.
4. To learn life – skill techniques.
