Garay-Rondero, C.L., Martinez-Flores, J.L., Smith, N.R., Caballero Morales, S.O. and AldretteMalacara, A. (2019), "Digital supply chain model in Industry 4.0", Journal of Manufacturing Technology Management , Vol. ahead-of-print No. ahead-ofprint.
Introduction	Expanding global competition, emerging of new technologies and improved communication has eventually increased customer's expectations with full satisfaction of product or services they purchase, to meet the customers' expectations one successful solution is the implementation of JIT in Supply Chain Management. Where main objective is to procure material and deliver it to customer on right time, right location with right quality, with reducing lead time and wastage.	Activities related to supply chain and logistics are important part of many business and enterprises hence it is the need of SC and logistics to get upgraded with digitalization and industry 4.0. so this research is to contribute to the understanding and evolution of SC models and turning it into Modern Digital Supply Chain
Aims of Research	To study JIT applicability in various activities of SCM in context with Indian Industries. And to explore actual trends and understanding of implementation of JIT in SCM.	Aim of this study is to present a conceptual model that defines the essential components shaping the new Digital Supply Chain through implementation and acceleration of Industry 4.0
Methodology	1. Conceptual 2. Empirical 3. Case Studies 4. Survey 5. Literature Survey	Conceptual study of Industry 4.0, Case study based on partial implementation of DSC, survey and literature scanning.
Scope	Improvement in elements of JIT in supply chain which are procurement, manufacturing, distribution, human involvement, and information sharing.	Purpose the new digital model of supply chain and logistics to enhance effective flow of value chain and improve six interconnected dimensions of SCM.
Usefulness	JIT provides quick, accurate, reliable, cost effective, responsive, and long-term effect on activities of SCM. Due to which elements of SCM will improve significantly.	Implementing DSC and Logistics with powerful intelligence make it possible for us to reach the value of availability for making products and services available to the customers through autonomous deliveries.
Limitations	Effect of some attribution and implementation is neglected, it does not include small scale industries and legal aspect	More inclined towards customer point of view, neglected warehousing and storing sector.
Gaps identified	Lacking in attributes and performance measuring units in supply chain to enhance JIT. Limited context related to the supply chain in Indian industries. Selecting potential suppliers and distributors in Indian industries. to focus on problem, arise with implementations of JIT in practical world and find out solutions.	Lack of practical examples for stating the implementation of DSC with Industry 4.0, less information about the digital platform and its use in SC

Conclusions	It results that with the implementation of JIT in supply chain can positively affect the Indian manufacturing industries to achieve low inventory, low wastage, less lead time, improvement in material flow from supplier of raw material to manufacturer to distributor and then to customer with just in time.	Due to implementation of Digital Supply Chain it is possible to make multi-dimensional and non-linear interaction, it will make the whole process transparent hence there is increase in flow of information in organization and also make the SC and logistics to get flexible body structure.
Further Research	Working on the problems arising due to implementation of the JIT in SCM and finding out the way to overcome them.	Working on indicators which evaluate each link and stage of DSC, study carried on which level should processes and management components be integrated between firm and throughout DSC

Introduction	Four supply chain levers considered in this research from move to sell, to buy and to store. For each of these areas, KPIs are defined in order to obtain quantifiable measures to compare if there are changes over time. 1) buy 2) store 3) move 4) sell	Supply Chain 4.0 will affect all areas of supply chain management. This is evident in the way the main Supply Chain 4.0 improvement levers to six main value drivers. In Supply Chain 4.0, supply chain management applies Industry 4.0 innovations the Internet of Things, advanced robotics, analytics, and big data to jump-start performance, and customer satisfaction.
Aims of Research	Determine Impact of industry 4.0 on the supply chain	To determine what digitization leads to a Supply Chain 4.0
Methodology	1) Study utilizing various types of literature as primary data sources, including scientific papers, journals, articles, magazines, newspapers, government reports, EU reports, business reports from companies, consultants' reports, Internet blogs and YouTube videos. 2) Opportunities and threats matrix on supply chain levers were identified	The diagnostic tool assesses the supply chain systematically based on six value drivers and five assessment dimensions, such as data and analytics (Exhibit)
Scope	Scope of the analysis four functions within a supply chain, i.e. procurement, transport logistics, warehouse and order fulfilment.	Assess current digital maturity of the organization, create a sound understanding of the required levers to pull to reach the next performance level by leveraging Supply Chain 4.0 tools, shape the road map for digitization, and assess the potential impact.
Usefulness	The most relevant benefits are increased flexibility, quality standards, efficiency and productivity. This will enable mass customization, allowing companies to meet customers' demands, creating value through constantly introducing new products and services to the market	Supply Chain 4.0's improvement levers map of six main value drivers to evaluate
Limitations	We believe that legal aspects, liabilities, insurance and ethics should be considered.	Lack of practical examples to justify the particular concept or idea

Gaps identified	Make part is not considered in the lever. Inputs are the raw materials, resources, technologies and information needed, and outputs are what the customers receive from the company.
Conclusions	Results showed that the areas which will be most affected by the introduction of Industry 4.0 are the order fulfilment and transport logistics.	The transformation into a digital supply chain requires three key enablers: a clear definition, new capabilities, and a supportive environment.
Further Research	Scope of the analysis four functions within a supply chain, i.e. procurement, transport logistics, warehouse and order fulfilment.

Chain 4.0: A Shift in Paradigm.Proceedings of the International Conference on Industrial Engineering and Operations Management Pilsen, Czech Republic, July 23-26, 2019
Introduction	In this paper it is defined that why SMEs are not available for Industry 4.0 and Supply Chain 4.0, then analysis of existing model and presenting a reference model.	In the article, it is stated how Industry 4.0 is impacting Supply Chain 4.0, what are the key challenges in Supply Chain 4.0, what are the influencing factors in Supply Chain 4.0, SC 4.0 enablers.
Aims of Research	Paper is focused on the idea to measure the dynamics of Supply Chain 4.0 and Industry 4.0 concepts implementation in SMEs keeping sustainability as kernal.	To understand the basics of Supply Chain 4.0
Methodology	1) Developing an approach and a framework for measuring SME dyanamics on Supply chain 4.0 and Industry 4.0. 2) Approach is based on observation and existing system modelling and analysis. 3) Using GRAI methodology, GRAIgrid for decision making	1)study utilizing various types of literature as primary data sources, including scientific papers, journals, articles, magazines, newspapers, government reports, EU reports, business reports from companies, consultants' reports, Internet blogs and YouTube videos.
Scope	1) Scope of identifying the brakes in implementing Supply Chain4.0 and Industry 4.0 In SMEs. 2) Scope of improving the reference model.	1) Scope of better understanding of Supply Chain 4.0. 2) Scope of learning how to implement Supply Chain 4.0
Usefulness	1) Detecting brakes for Industry 4.0 and Supply chain 4.0 implementation in SMEs and elaborate key actions for accelerating their dynamics. 2) Define an aided tool for the design phase and accelerating the company dynamics of Industry 4.0 and Supply chain 4.0 implementation.	1) Understanding basics of SC 4.0. 2) Information about key challenges, influencing factors, enablers of SC 4.0. 3) Digitilization of Supply Chain 4.0.
Limitations	If the paper could state some specific problems for why SMEs are not available for implementing Supply Chain 4.0	1) Very general and basics of SC 4.0 is discussed. 2) I think it can also talk about more specifics.
Gaps identified	The architecture and the structure of the tools to find the brakes is not there in this paper	1) Steps or ways to implement the SC 4.0 is not discussed
